

...and "The Young David,"
have been ranked with the classics.
The Habima Art Theatre performed "Jacob's Dream" in Hebrew some years ago here.

About 1936, at the behest of the Vienna Burgtheatre, Dr. Beer-Hofmann adapted Goethe's "Faust, Parts One and Two," for a performance in one evening. His adaptation became the hit of the season.

Surviving are two daughters,
Mrs. Miriam Lens and Miss Naomi Beer-Hofmann, and a son, Gabriel, of London.

Radio and Stage Actor, 41, Has Appeared on Broadway

Maurice M. Minnick, an actor who had appeared in Broadway productions and on the radio, died early yesterday morning at the Memorial Hospital after a long illness. His age was 41. Mr. Minnick had resided at 1166 Grand Concourse, the Bronx.

He was born in Richmond, Indiana, and was graduated from George Williams College in Chicago and the University of Chicago. He had